A message from your Headteacher...

Dear families,

This week we enjoyed a fantastic TT Rock Stars Day, with children showing great enthusiasm and effort as they practised and celebrated their times tables skills. It was lovely to see such positive engagement and confidence across the school - with some fantastic costumes! Well done to the parents too!

We are also pleased to share some staffing updates. We have recently appointed a new Teaching Assistant, and you may have heard your child mention that they are working with Miss Baker-Brown who has settled very well into her new role in Robin Class and is thoroughly enjoying supporting children in their learning (perhaps a shared enthusiasm for working with children runs in the family!) As some of you will know, Miss Baker-Brown brings with her great enthusiasm and experience as a dance teacher. She is already sharing her expertise through leading our Musical Theatre Culture Club, which her group of mixed age children are thoroughly enjoying on a Friday.

In addition, Mrs Midgley Green is now working in her role as our ELSA (Emotional Literacy Support Assistant). As an ELSA, Mrs Midgley Green supports children with their emotional wellbeing, helping them to understand and manage their feelings, build confidence, and develop positive relationships. This provision plays an important role in supporting children's readiness to learn and overall wellbeing and we are delighted to be offering it across the school. You will receive a letter this week, if your child has been identified to work with Mrs Midgley Green.

Looking ahead to next week, it is Children's Mental Health Week. Throughout the week, children will be taking part in activities and discussions focused on understanding emotions, wellbeing and positive mental health, supporting our ongoing commitment to helping every child feel safe, supported and able to thrive. We look forward to sharing next week's learning with you.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support.

Best wishes,

Jo Baker-Brown
